

FLOOR ALERT SUPPORT

SB 1090 (Pérez)

Keep Altadena Land in Altadena Hands

Beautiful Altadena • Every Fire Survivor's Network • Altadena Heritage • Enterprise Community Partners
Eaton Fire Collaborative • Altadena Recovery Watch • Altadena Community Land Trust • Altadena Tenants' Union
Altadena Town Council • San Gabriel Valley Community Land Trust • Greenline Housing Foundation

Fire survivors, Altadena residents and property owners, community businesses and organizations, and affordable housing developers request your support for SB 1090.

SB 1090 places a 3-year pause on the by-right, ministerial approval of the infill housing mandate created under SB 1123 — a law that allows a qualifying property to be subdivided into up to 10 parcels and was never intended to be applied in a town devastated by a wildfire. Every identified user of that pathway since the Eaton Fire has been an outside investor, not a returning Altadena family.

Altadena deserves the same protection as the Palisades. Pacific Palisades is exempted from SB 1123 because it sits inside a Very High/High Fire Hazard Severity Zone. Altadena's burn area sits mostly outside those zones, leaving it exposed to predatory developers. SB 1090 addresses this disparate treatment under the law.

- SB 1123 is barred by law in Very High / High fire hazard zones.
- Altadena's burn area: mostly outside that zone — exposed.
- Palisades' burn area: entirely inside it — shielded.
- SB 1090 closes that gap.

SB 1090 takes nothing away from homeowners, owner-occupants, or providers of affordable housing — survivors keep their like-for-like rebuild, ADU rights, and duplex/lot-split options under SB 9. This 3-year pause targets only speculative multi-unit subdivision under SB 1123, nothing more.

This is temporary, targeted relief for a community in genuine crisis — not a permanent rollback of state housing policy.

SUPPORT SB 1090 — VOTE YES ✓

ALTADENA
RECOVERY
WATCH